DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Amendment E filed 4/23/3 and entered as Paper No. 16 forms the basis of this Office Action. In Amendment E Applicant substantially amended all of the independent claims 1 and 5. Counter to Applicant's implication that the amendments to the claim language filed 4/23/3 merely form a "Response", said filing must be qualified as an "Amendment" (namely: Amendment E), while, as explained below in "Response to Arguments" new matter has been introduced through Amendment E.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed 4/23/3 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In particular, the traverse based on the language of the newly amended claims 1 and 5 is not disclosed, because nothing in the Specification describes the limitation to the method of manufacturing of the power transistor circuit to have as step 1 the securing of a die to a substrate at the time said substrate comprises at least one input matching element and at least one input signal lead, while this limitation is newly including as step (1) in both independent claims 1 and 5:

Specifically, Applicant discloses on page 4 in "Summary of the Invention" that the die is secured "to a substrate, the die comprising a transistor having an input terminal and output terminal" and that by using "one or more wire sets the transistor input terminal is electrically connected to one or more input matching terminals and an input signal lead". Additionally, Applicant discloses on page 5 that "a power transistor circuit includes a die secured to the substrate, the die comprising a transistor having input and output terminal", and that inter alia, "an input lead and one or more input matching elements" are "also secured to the substrate", giving no indication on the chronological order in which said die is secured to the substrate and said input lead and said one or more matching elements are secured to the substrate. No indication on said chronological transpires from the "Detailed Description of Preferred Embodiments", nor from the "Brief Description of the Drawings", while said chronological order was neither stated nor implicit in the initial claim language.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claims contain subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor, at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. In particular, nothing in the Specification (including the original claims) discloses that as a first step a die is to be secured to a substrate while said substrate already comprises at least one input matching element and at least one input signal lead; yet, this is the logical implication of step 1 as formulated in claim 1 and in claim 5.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
